

Optimizing Care Across the Continuum

Better Telehealth, Better Care, Better Outcomes

Working together, ExtendedCare and Iron Bow are extending the boundaries of healthcare. We're collaborating with today's leading health systems to transform the patient experience, streamline provider workflows, improve clinical outcomes, and drive better economics.

Fully-Integrated Clinical Solution with State-of-the-Art Telehealth

The best just got better. Iron Bow's CLINiC™, a best-in-class clinical consultation device, is now integrated with ExtendedCare's versatile telehealth software supporting multi-party video. Together, they offer a powerful, convenient in-hospital clinical solution that improves the patient experience, drives better outcomes, and gives everyone involved – clinicians, patients, and family caregivers – a collaborative care environment with unparalleled video capabilities.

- Iron Bow's CLINiC™ is a flexible in-facility consultation device providing an intuitive, icon-driven user interface. It's easy to use, supports a host of peripherals, and offers superior codec video quality for any and all video-based care.
- ExtendedCare's robust telehealth software lets you launch and conduct video consults directly from the EMR/EHR using the fully-integrated Iron Bow device. It supports multi-party video linking all parties together in consultation, transforming how care is delivered and received.
- The integrated Iron Bow and ExtendedCare telehealth solution leverages your existing EMR/EHR, Cisco infrastructure, and other IT infrastructure investments – ideal for Cisco-based environments!
- Ask about our new alternative financing options and Managed Services for accelerated purchasing and deployment.

Making Care Easier and More Accessible

Wall Mount

Desk Mount

Arm Mount

Cart Mount

ExtendedCare Solutions is a business of the Dillon Kane Group, a group of affiliated companies serving diverse industries since 2002. More than 300 Dillon Kane technologists, strategists, and subject matter experts are currently developing tomorrow's digital automation solutions, including connected healthcare systems that improve the delivery and value of care.

ExtendedCareSolutions.com • © 2019 Dillon Kane Group • All Rights Reserved

Iron Bow Healthcare Solutions empowers providers and patients through the implementation of telehealth. Through our knowledge of the healthcare industry, the depth of our technical expertise, and our workflow process awareness, we enable enhanced patient outcomes through increased access to remote care. ironbowhealthcare.com